

What Does The Future Hold?

Joshua 3:4, "... for you have not passed this way before." NASU

Ancient Greece

"In Greece there has never been any shame in relationships before marriage or outside marriage. Demosthenes writes as if it was the merest commonplace, as indeed it was: 'We keep mistresses for pleasure, concubines for the day-to-day needs of the body, but we have wives in order to produce children legitimately and to have a trustworthy guardian of our homes.'"

(Barclay, Flesh & Spirit, page 24)

Roman Empire

Morality during first half of the second century

"... an age when shame seems to have vanished from the earth."

(J. J. Chapman, cited in Flesh & Spirit, Barclay, page 24)

Roman Empire

Adultery

"Roman women were married to be divorced and were divorced to be married. Some of them distinguished the years, not by the names of the consuls, but by the names of their husbands."

(Seneca, cited in Flesh & Spirit, Barclay, page 24)

Roman Empire

Homosexuality

- Julius Caesar was notoriously the lover of king Nicomedes of Bithynia

- Nero "married" a youth called Sporus and had a marriage procession through the streets of Rome (Flesh & Spirit, Barclay, page 27)

Roman Empire

"There was no strong body of opinion against immorality. To the Graeco-Roman world immorality in sexual matters was not immorality; it was established custom and practice."

(Flesh & Spirit, Barclay, page 28)

America, 2021

“The latest results are based on Gallup’s annual Values and Beliefs poll, conducted May 1-13, 2020. The poll updated several trends on Americans’ views about marriage asked previously over the past two decades. The trends are consistent with Americans’ evolving views of marriage. Sixty-six percent now believe it is morally acceptable to have a baby outside of marriage, an increase from 53% the first year the question was asked in 2001. Seventy-two percent, up from 53% in 2001, consider sex between an unmarried man and woman morally acceptable.”
